8,315+ video clips, 1,000+ full-length videos—and growing!

We may not live in a world of flying cars, humanoid robot assistants, and laser cannons, but technology has changed our lives in countless and often unpredictable ways. This collection looks at the history and current state of how technology has changed our lives. Can iPads harm toddlers' development? Will human workers become obsolete? Are we more "connected" yet also more alone than ever?
